This document was approved by the University of Tennessee General Education Committee on March 8, 2017.

This document was updated for Volunteer Core in Spring 2019.

This document was updated in Fall 2022 to align with updated Volunteer Core Assessment procedures.

Purpose of this Document

To ensure that The University of Tennessee General Education/Volunteer Core program delivers intended outcomes, all courses approved for Volunteer Core must be assessed on a regular basis. This assessment will also be utilized for SACSCOC. This document describes the process for that assessment.

The University of Tennessee Volunteer Core

The UT Volunteer Core consists of courses in the following categories:

- Effective Communication: Written Communication (WC), Oral Communication (OC), Applied Oral Communication (AOC)
- Expanded Perspectives: Arts & Humanities (AH), Natural Sciences (NS), Quantitative and Logical Reasoning (QR), Social Sciences (SS), Global Citizenship – United States (GCUS), Global Citizenship – International (GCI), Applied Arts and Humanities (AAH)
- Engaged Inquiries

Descriptions and student learning outcomes for the categories are given on the Undergraduate Council website (<https://ugcouncil.utk.edu/general-education-curriculum/>) and in the Undergraduate Catalog.

Some Definitions

See a description of UT's assessment process at The Office of Institutional Research and Assessment's website (<https://oira.utk.edu/assessment-planning-and-resources/>).

Assessment – The process of gathering and discussing information from multiple and diverse sources in order to develop a deep understanding of what students know, understand, and can do with their knowledge as a result of their educational experiences; the process culminates when assessment results are used to improve subsequent learning (Learner-Centered Assessment on College Campuses: Shifting the Focus From Teaching to Learning by Huba and Freed, 2000).

Assessment report – A summary of the results of the assessment of a Volunteer Core course. Reports are submitted online and will contain, for each student learning outcome:

- a description of the direct and indirect methods used to assess those learning outcomes
- a description of the sampling method
- a report of the assessment results

Learning outcome – A statement that describes what a student should know once they complete a course or a program. Learning outcomes (LOs) for Volunteer Core courses are listed in the Undergraduate Catalog (see <https://catalog.utk.edu/>, Volunteer Core Requirements).

Direct assessment – Used to determine the level of student learning achieved against established learning outcomes. Activities in this category usually have a direct impact on measures of student performance (e.g., grades in a course). Some examples of direct assessment may include, but are not limited to exams, quizzes, oral presentations, dissertations, theses, essays, and portfolios.

Notes: If the sole purpose of a test is to measure one specific student learning outcome, the grade on the test can be used as a measure. If the test measures several outcomes, sub-scores for relevant questions should be used for each outcome.

Indirect assessment – Typically used to evaluate the quality of student learning experiences. Some examples of indirect assessments include self-efficacy surveys, end of course evaluations, focus groups, and questionnaires for alumni regarding program effectiveness and retention.

Student work – An exam, an essay, a lab report, a reaction paper, a set of homework problems, a short-answer response provided on a midterm exam, selected multiple-choice questions from a quiz, etc., that will be used to collect data for the assessment.

Assessment of Volunteer Core Courses

All Volunteer Core courses will be assessed on a regular basis to determine if they are meeting all the student learning outcomes for the Volunteer Core category/ies to which they belong.

Assessment timeline

The assessment of Volunteer Core courses will begin in the academic year 2023-2024.

Each course will be assessed in every Volunteer Core category (e.g., WC, OC, QR, etc.) to which it belongs once every three (3) years. The year in which a course will be assessed will be assigned by the Volunteer Core Assessment subcommittee. The year can be changed if there is some reason that the course cannot be assessed in the assigned year; e.g., the course is not offered in the proposed assessment year.

All student learning outcomes for each category will be assessed for each Volunteer Core course.

Information for assessment will be provided on the Volunteer Core course proposal form. This information will include:

- Department of course
- Department/School head's name and email
- Departmental Assessment coordinator name and email
- Volunteer Core Assessment coordinator for the college

Once a Vol Core proposal is accepted, it will be assigned a year for its first assessment. The course will be assessed every three years after this starting year. The proposer, their department head, and their departmental and/or college assessment coordinator will be notified of the year of first assessment and will be reminded when the course comes up again for assessment.

Assessment Subcommittee duties

The Assessment subcommittee will:

- Assign assessment years for all Volunteer Core courses.
- Each November, March, and May, remind the departments which courses are to be assessed the next academic year.
- Answer any questions on the assessment process.
- Review the results/reports submitted by the Volunteer Core category subcommittee chairs.
- Correspond with departments on actions plans if necessary.
- Report the results of each year's assessment process to the Volunteer Core/General Education committee.

Volunteer Core category subcommittee (WC, OC, AOC, etc.) duties

The Volunteer Core category subcommittees will:

- Review the reports submitted by the departments to determine which courses met/did not meet their benchmark.

- Submit a summary report to the Volunteer Core assessment subcommittee.

Course Assessment Process

Please note that all learning outcomes for each Volunteer Core category the course is listed in must be assessed.

The process for assessing a specific course for Volunteer Core is as follows:

1. Reminders of upcoming assessment

At the beginning of the academic year of the planned assessment, the Volunteer Core Assessment subcommittee will remind departments about the upcoming review of their course(s) and will direct people to the rating scales and benchmarks.

2. Prepare for your assessment.

Departments should review the following, which should be in the Volunteer Core proposal for each course:

- A description of student work to be collected

The student work may be an exam, an essay, a lab report, a reaction paper, a set of homework problems, a short-answer response provided on a midterm exam, selected multiple-choice questions from a quiz, etc.

- If there are multiple sections of the course and the different sections of the course don't share identical assignments, select student work for each section that as closely resembles each other as possible.
- More than one learning outcome can be assessed by the same student work.
- The assignment/exam/paper/etc. does not have to be made specifically for the purpose of this assessment. In fact, it is preferable that the student work be an assignment or test that is a normal part of the course.
- Do not use an extra credit assignment; the work needs to be something that all students in the course or section complete.
- Do not assess rough drafts; use final versions only.

- Sampling method

The sample should be as representative of the student population in the course as possible. The sampling method used is based on the number of students that are predicted to take the course:

- If the course enrollment is below 50, student work from every student in the course should be collected.

- Otherwise, randomly collect at least 20% of the student work from all sections of the course OR work from all students in 20% of the sections of the class.
- If the 20% sample represents 50 or fewer students, at least 50 samples should be collected.

Contact the chair of the Volunteer Core Assessment subcommittee if there are changes from the proposal form that will affect your assessment.

Reminder: If there are multiple sections of the course and the different sections of the course don't share identical assignments, select student work for each section that as closely resembles each other as possible.

- Rating scales

You will choose which rating scale to use for each learning outcome according to the type of student work to be assessed.

Rating scale for OBJECTIVE questions (for multiple choice tests, etc.)

This type of scale should be used with any assignment or test that can be graded as points or percentages. You should grade each student's work as you normally would, then turn each individual student's score into a rubric value (1-4) based on the following scale:

- 1 = Ineffective: the individual student scores below 60% on selected questions.
- 2 = Adequate: the individual student scores between 60-74% on selected questions.
- 3 = Effective: the individual student scores between 75-89% on selected questions.
- 4 = Outstanding: the individual student scores 90% or above on selected questions.

Rating scale for SUBJECTIVE questions (essay questions, papers, etc.):

Each student's paper should be read and evaluated according to the rubric appropriate to the Volunteer Core category (see Appendix B). Each individual student's paper will receive a rating of 1 (ineffective) to 4 (outstanding).

- Benchmark

The benchmark represents satisfactory achievement of the student learning outcome. The benchmark describes how the department determines whether the course meets the student learning outcomes.

For all Volunteer Core courses, the benchmark is: 90% of students are rated adequate (2) or higher.

- Remember that you should report the number of students that scored each rating (1 to 4), not the averages of the ratings.
- Departments are highly encouraged to use the results to review their courses and create action plans designed to increase student ratings.

3. Collect student work.

During their agreed-upon assessment year, departments and instructors should collect student work according to their approved assessment plan.

4. Score the student work.

Using the rating scale and rubric appropriate to the student work, score each student's work as a 1, 2, 3, or 4. Report the number of students obtaining each rating.

5. Submit assessment reports

All assessment reports and associated information should be submitted via the appropriate Qualtrics form. (Links to the forms can be found in Appendix A).

Submit your report by the following deadline dates:

- Fall assessments are due March 1
- Winter mini-term assessments are due September 15
- Spring assessments are due in September 15
- May mini-term assessments are due September 15
- Summer assessments are due September 15

Information needed for the report includes:

- Course information – course subject, number, title, instructor, description

- For each learning outcome:
  - Method for assessment – the assignment assessed, the sampling method
  - Results (detailed): The number of students scoring each rating
  - Results (general): Did the students meet the benchmark?
  - Actions planned/taken
  - Comments on the assessment results or process

Directions for entering your information can be found in Appendix A.

If you have questions regarding the entering of your assessment data, contact the chair of the Volunteer Core Assessment subcommittee.

6. Analyze assessment results; decide on an action plan.

The assessment reporting survey will calculate whether the benchmark was met by comparing the percentage of ratings 2 or higher to the benchmark of 90%.

If the benchmark was not met, the person submitting the report will be contacted by a member of the Assessment subcommittee to work on an action plan.

7. Review of assessment reports.

The appropriate Volunteer Core category subcommittee and the Volunteer Core Assessment subcommittee will review your assessment. You will receive any comments or suggestions and be asked to update or resubmit the form as needed.

If the benchmark was not met: The Volunteer Core/General Education Committee and the Undergraduate Council will be informed of classes not meeting the benchmark. For those courses, the following actions will take place:

- First-year benchmark not met:

Instructor will propose actions to be taken. The class will be reviewed again the following year.

The Volunteer Core/General Education Committee and Teaching and Learning Innovation (TLI) will offer assistance to the department in taking action to meet the student learning outcome, if needed. An update of actions taken will be submitted to the Volunteer Core/General Education Committee the following year or as soon as possible.

- Second-year benchmark not met:

Instructor meets with TLI, proposes actions to be taken, and the course is reviewed again the next year or as soon as possible.

- Third-year benchmark not met:

The course will be removed from the Volunteer Core list for the category in which it is not meeting the benchmark. If a course is on multiple lists, it will remain on the lists for any categories for which it meets the benchmark.

- Term (Semester/year)
- Subject/number/title of the course being assessed
- Contact information for person doing the assessment

For each student learning outcome:

- Description of the assignment used for assessment.
- Description of sampling process
- Number of students receiving each rating
- Whether the benchmark was met
- Actions taken based on results
- Comments

Sample responses

Q: Subject/number/title of the course being assessed

The SUBJ is the 3-4 letter designation for the course. (AFST, PLSC, ENGL, MUCO)
Use the title of the course that is in the catalog.

Good answers:

- AFST 225, Introduction to African Literature
- PLSC 180, Landscape Design/Performance/Function
- ENGL 201, British Literature I: Beowulf through Johnson
- MUCO 120, History of Rock

Q: Description of the assignment used for assessment

Good answers should include a copy of the question/assignment (and an explanation of how the assignment meets the LO).

Example:

Students were to write a 1200-1500 word essay on one of the following prompts. Each prompt has elements of all three student learning outcomes:

Prompt #1:

Discuss the changes of comic opera and theater performance during the 18th century in one or two of western Europe's cosmopolitan centers (London, Paris, Vienna, Berlin, Prague). How did cultural, social, and political climates influence this development? Who had the most profound impact and why? Include innovations in structure and narratives, vocal types and dramatic roles, aesthetic ideologies, and audience reception.

Prompt #2

In the era of the Enlightenment, logic, the rights of man, and religious freedom were leading concepts. The material we have covered in class has shown that this was not always the case, particularly in areas under colonial rule such as the Americas. Select two works composed by composers on the American continent and discuss how they exhibit elements of the Galant while also conveying stylistic characteristics uncommon to western Europe.

Prompt #3

Discuss the development of salon culture during the 18th century and early 19th century. What influence did the Enlightenment have on this development? What were the most popular genres and why? How did this development aid in the rise of musical performance across the social classes? Include innovations in structure, instrumentation, aesthetics, and performance practice.

Q: Description of sampling process

Good answers:

- There was only one section of the course with 30 students in the section. Therefore, student work was collected from all 30 students.
- This course had 10 sections with 40 students in each section (400 students total). We collected sample work from all students in 2 sections (80 students).

Note: The instructor could either collect work from 2 sections (20% of the sections) or 20% of the 500 students (80 students). It is easier to collect work from all students in 2 sections than 20% of the students in each section.

Q: Number of students receiving each rating

Remember to enter the number of students receiving each rating. Do NOT enter the percentage of students receiving each rating.

Natural Sciences (NS) Rubric

Note: Courses in the area should only use the rubric for objective questions as given in Section 2.e and as shown below:

Rating scale for objective questions (for multiple choice tests, etc.)

This type of scale should be used with any assignment or test that can be graded as points or percentages. You should grade each student's work as you normally would, then turn each individual student's score into a rubric value (1-4) based on the following scale:

- 1 = Ineffective: the individual student scores below 60% on selected questions.
- 2 = Adequate: the individual student scores between 60-74% on selected questions.
- 3 = Effective: the individual student scores between 75-89% on selected questions.
- 4 = Outstanding: the individual student scores 90% or above on selected questions.

Learning Objectives for Natural Science:

1. Students will demonstrate the ability to describe fundamental principles and chief discoveries through appropriate use of the basic vocabulary of a course's discipline.

Quantitative and Logical Reasoning (QR) Rubric

QR Outcome 1	1- Ineffective	2-Adequate	3-Effective	4-Outstanding
Students will demonstrate the ability to identify those aspects of arguments and claims that rely on quantitative evidence and on mathematical or logical reasoning.	Missing or incomplete work; doesn't show any connection between the original problem or argument and the work provided.	Work shows connections to the given problem or argument and takes at least one correct step towards a solution or re-statement of the problem.	Work draws from the given information and takes multiple correct steps towards the solution or re-statement of the problem. May still show several small misunderstandings, but nothing critical.	Clear work that connects the given problem or argument with a solution or effective restatement of the original statement. The work has multiple steps that show mastery of mathematical or logical reasoning.
QR Outcome 2	1- Ineffective	2-Adequate	3-Effective	4-Outstanding
Students will demonstrate the ability to evaluate the appropriateness of conclusions drawn from quantitative evidence and mathematical or logical reasoning techniques.	Missing or incomplete or completely unsupported argument. No connection shown between given information and the results.	Connections between the parts of the problem are provided but they are not necessarily complete or presented with the expected precise language. The results are evaluated correctly or at least consistently with the support given.	Work or argument uses the given information correctly and makes the proper conclusions based on that data. The evaluation is correct, but may still show some small errors in reasoning or language.	Work evaluates the situation correctly, using proper language and methods, and provides proper support for any arguments or conclusions.
QR Outcome 3	1- Ineffective	2-Adequate	3-Effective	4-Outstanding
Students will demonstrate the ability to formulate and solve problems that rely on mathematical or logical reasoning.	Missing or incomplete or completely unsupported answer (e.g., Missing or incomplete solution)	Solution and some support are provided, but there is no precision in the language or statements used, no quantitative elements in the support, or the solution does not logically follow from the support. (e.g., Solution given, but major errors with respect to the solution key.)	Solutions and support are provided and correct, but there are misuses of terminology or data, or there are some missing elements in the support. (e.g., Correct and matches most but not all of the solution key; differences are not significant.)	Solution is stated precisely using appropriate quantitative or logical notation and terminology, and is supported correctly using specific data references from the problem. (e.g., Match the wording and elements of the solution key.)

Social Sciences (SS) Rubric

SS Outcome 1	1-Ineffective	2-Adequate	3-Effective	4-Outstanding
Students will identify and critique claims about individual and group behavior and political and social systems.	Demonstrates little to no understanding of individual and group behavior and how such behavior is embedded within political and social systems. The work is (1) not focused on such behavior, and/or (2) does not provide support for positions with scholarly sources (as opposed to informal personal opinion) or relevant, detailed examples.	Attempts to demonstrate an understanding of individual and group behavior and how such behavior is embedded within political and social systems. The work states reasonably clear positions and attempts to support them with scholarly sources and/or relevant examples, though often lacking in detail.	Demonstrates understanding of individual and group behavior and how such behavior is embedded within political and social systems by successfully taking a scholarly approach to discuss such behavior. The author generally supports positions with scholarly sources and/or relevant, detailed examples. Students will demonstrate knowledge of appropriate and ethical methods, technologies, and data that social scientists use to investigate and describe the human condition.	Demonstrates little to no knowledge of the methods social scientists use to investigate the human condition. The work demonstrates little understanding of the methods themselves, let alone when or why they are useful.	Attempts to demonstrate knowledge of the methods social scientists use to investigate the human condition, but does not demonstrate a solid grasp on the methods, when they are useful, and/or why they are useful.	Demonstrates knowledge of the methods social scientists use to investigate the human condition. Understands the methods themselves as well as when and why they are useful.
